Thesis Statement Example

Psychologists have argued for decades about how a person's character is formed. Numerous psychologists believe that one's birth order (i.e. place in the family as the youngest, oldest, or middle child) has the greatest influence. Birth order can have a significant impact in the formation of a child's character. Birth order can strongly affect one's relationship with parents, relationships with others, and how one views responsibility as an adult.

The thesis statement makes a strong claim about birth order.
